

Sketch two cross-sections of a cone—one cross-section that is parallel to the base and another cross-section that is perpendicular to the base.